Trust a Communist?

"The facts of the matter are that the Soviets and ourselves give wholly different meanings to the same words: war, peace, democracy and public will.

"We have wholly different views of right and wrong, of what is an internal affair and what is aggression. And above all we have wholly different concepts of where the world is and where it is going."

So said President John F. Kennedy after returning from a conference with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Vienna, Austria.

In order to point up these differences and show just where the free and enslaved worlds stand, The Mercury will serialize a book entitled, "You Can Trust the Communists."

The author of this provocative work is Dr. Fred Schwarz, a native of Australia who practiced medicine in Sydney and currently is executive director of the Christian Anti-Communist crusade.

He devotes most of his time traveling throughout the free world exposing the dangers of communism to civic and church groups.

The seemingly shocking title of his book, which will appear in The Mercury starting next Tuesday, explains the substance of this captivating book.

The communists, Dr. Schwarz maintains, can be trusted—to do exactly as they say, that

SCHOOLMEN PRESSING FOR BACK TAXES

Bowling Alley Asks Exoneration, Claims Hardship

LIMERICK BOARD SCANS LOCAL PLAN

Limerick township school directors will press for the payment of back amusement taxes from The 422 Bowling alleys.

Directors took the action at a school board meeting Wednesday night in the Limerick township elementary school.

After the motion was put to a vote, Board President Dr. Ivan Hess directed Kirke Bryan, board solicitor, to contact Emidio Mattei, attorney representing the bowling establishment and inform him the 10 percent amusement tax for the months of April and May was still due, and would not be exonerated.

The action followed the reading of a letter addressed to Harry Leopold, board treasurer, from Mattei. In the letter, Mattei requested the board to reconsider his client's position, and the hardship that would be placed on his client by the tax.

THE BOARD also discussed various means of securing a bond issue for financing the proposed six room addition to the present school. Solicitor Bryan pointed out the financial respon-

End of a Perfect Journey

Warren Holden, Pughtown road, Pottstown RD 1, relaxes in the living room of his home after completing a 425 mile trip by horse and wagon. Tired, but happy, Holden said the trip restores his confidence.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Pioneer is Home Tired, But Happy

A tired yet cheerful Warren C. Holden drove his team into the lane of his Pughtown road, Pottstown RD 1 home Tuesday night.

The last few hundred yards ended the saga of 58 year old Holden's 425 mile trek by covered wagon to Berlin, Md., and back.

"The only thing I want to do now is sleep," was Holden's weary comment as he relaxed at the end of the 23 day ride into the 19th century.

"But this trip was a complete success," he assured. It restored the confidence I lost three years ago when I had a stroke."

HOLDEN, HIS Shetland puppy, Buppy, and two horses, Rosie and Major, became celebrities during their jaunt through Chester county, Delaware and Maryland.

An estimated 50,000 people turned out to see him in towns and cities along his route.

"And I was given so many job, food and shelter offers I didn't know what to do with them, he noted.

What were his plans for the future, now that his confidence is restored?

"Just rest for awhile. Then I'll think about starting up in business again," he said.

Boyertown Sets Sewer Difference At $233,000

Boyertown took its case for a joint sewage system with Colebrookdale and Douglass (Montgomery) townships to the public Wednesday night.

More than 200 persons gathered in the auditorium of the Boyertown Area High school to hear a succession of borough officials explain the advantages of a single sewage disposal plant.

Township supervisors and representatives of their engineering firms were in the audience but declined to speak either for or against the joint system proposed by the borough.

Borough Manager Rowland A. Read reviewed the recent study by Glace and Glace Engineering, of Harrisburg, summing up the borough's attitude with the "considered opinion that the filter-type sewage disposal plant recommended by our engineers is the type that will best suit the needs of the borough as well as the townships."

THE TOWNSHIPS have vacillated between the filter and contact aeration type plants since the need for sewage first became pressing several years ago. The borough has a plant but needs to enlarge and modernize it.

Read said that it would cost the borough $404,000 to construct a 600,000 gallon capacity plant about 1200 feet east of the present disposal plant near the Boyertown High school gymnasium. The cost per person would be approximately $29.40.

On the other hand, he continued, a plant that would serve all three municipalities would cost about $637,000. He broke that figure

PARSONAGE IS PLANNED BY CHURCH

Missionary Alliance Selling Older Property

A new parsonage will be built at the corner of North Hanover and Wilson streets by the members of Christian Missionary Alliance church, 715 Walnut street.

Construction will begin within a few days by L. Ernest Pickard, contractor.

A new church will also be constructed on the property, south of the parsonage in the near future after the present building is sold.

The value of the new parsonage and property is $15,000.

Buyers for the present parsonage and church are still negotiating on the sale.

The lots were purchased by the church one and one-half year ago.

Construction of the parsonage is expected to be completed in August.

Pottsville Puts End To Political Plum, For Health's Sake

(Editor's Note: Does Pottstown require a fulltime health officer? The Board of Health says yes, the health and sanitation committee says no. The Mercury today continues its examination of the health departments of other cities.)

By PAUL LEVY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottsville no longer has a public health problem.

Five years ago the Schuylkill county city of 21,569 residents took the health officer's job out from under the control of the politicians and placed it under civil service, made the position a fulltime one and employed for the first time a man trained in public health work.

The man was William H. Faust and his job was to see that conditions were cleaned up—and cleaned up fast. For the first time a health officer could do the job he was trained for without stepping on the tender toes of Pottsville's politicians.

"Restaurants were spotless and kitchens were like pigpens," one Pottsville resident noted. "But they were owned by the politicians or their friends and the health officer wouldn't dare order them cleaned up."

The political system showed. Pottsville ranked near the bottom on the State Health department's list of 58 municipalities surveyed annually. Today it ranks first!

"IT WASN'T easy to rise from the bottom of the list to the top," Faust noted Wednesday. "But first we made the crackdown stick and then we started an educational program."

And surprisingly the educational program was aimed at the same group that touched off Pottstown's health crisis — the food handlers.

"There was a food handlers ordinance on the book and about 950 food handlers," Faust remembered. "But only a few hundred of the food handlers bothered about the ordinance since the former health officer didn't seem to bother either."

(Sound familiar?)

The Pottsville ordinance calls for TWO medical examinations a year and an ordinance calling for annual X-ray examinations is being prepared. The Pottstown ordinance requires only one examination a year.

"Once we convinced the food handlers and their employers that

BIGGER BILL IS QUESTIONED BY BOARD

West Pottsgrove Paying More for Electricity

An increasing electric bill at the sewage pumping station in West Pottsgrove was questioned Wednesday night at the regular meeting of the West Pottsgrove commissioners. The commissioners met in the West End fire company hall, Stowe.

"I can't understand it," said president of the board Elmer Hampton, "Only a short while back, the monthly bill was about $20. Now, for the last couple of months, it is up in the $70's."

The bill for May was $70.02.

Hampton added the machinery at the pumping station was examined by representatives of the electric company, who could find nothing wrong.

Township engineer George E. Shaner agreed with Hartman that the bill was unexplainably high, and added that Health Officer Benjamin Steele also checked the pumps and found nothing amiss.

"I'm going down there myself tomorrow," Hampton said, "And see if I can't find out what is wrong. This is costing the township too much money."

IN WILLINGLY adding another expense, the board agreed to donate a dollar-a-dog to the SPCA in Upper Frederick township for all stray dogs caught in West Pottsgrove and turned over

Crash Victims Leave Hospital

Bonnie Jean Moyer, 14, one of six teenagers injured Tuesday morning when a compact car in which they were riding sheared off an electric pole on Old Route 73 in Earl township, was released from Pottstown hospital Wednesday.

The Moyer girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey R. Moyer, Boyertown RD 1, suffered multiple cuts of the face, scalp and left knee.

William Moyer, Bonnie's brother, and Sarah and Jean Renninger remain in the hospital. Their condition is good and improving.

The Renninger girls and two other sisters, Maria and Sally Ann, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Renninger, Boyertown RD 1.

Weatherman Spells End to Ideal Spring

If you did not have to work, it was a lovely, lazy day.

Wives, children and few vacationers who donned bathing suits to swim or sunbathe Wednesday will not regret it—for it was a perfect Spring day, which we will not see again for awhile.

"There was a nice breeze, that came in southeast from the ocean," said the Weatherman. "But it also brought a little humidity."

The humidity was 50 percent.

FOR WORKING members of the family, it was just a "hot weekday", but for their better halves at home it was not a day to spend in the house, and the warm sun brought them out in droves — and in sunsuits, bathing suits and wheeling baby carriages.

For the boys and girls in school, it only made the last few days more unbearable.

The high Wednesday was 81 degrees at 5 p. m. and the low was 68 at 6 a. m.

During the next five days, however, temperatures will average below normal, with no warm weather in sight.

Those wishing to enjoy late Spring weather today will have to do so in the morning, for it will be sunny then.

But in early afternoon, look for some variable cloudiness and by late afternoon — possible showers.

Keep your fingers crossed for the weekend!

THE WEATHER

Sunny this morning. Becoming cloudy with possible showers in afternoon. High near 80.

FIVE DAY FORECAST—Temperatures will average slightly below normal—about 2 to 6 degrees, with little day to day change. Cooler over the weekend and continued cool first of next week.

Guessers Favor July for Hottest Day of Year

"We're having a heat wave", say the lyrics of a popular tune, but when it will be is a question on which area residents share a hundred different opinions.

The Mercury's weather contest indicates the entire Summer will be one "heat wave" although July is running slightly ahead of the field as the choice for the hottest month.

The entries received Wednesday were split one and one between July and August. Winner of the contest will be awarded over $130 in prizes for guessing the exact time and date the temperature will be at its high point.

Guessing July was Mrs. Bert Mathias, Boyertown RD 1. Mrs. Mathias chose July 20 at 2:45 p. m. for the summer's high point. Disagreeing with Mrs. Mathias, Jean P. Carnahan, Monocacy station, said August 12, at 3:20 p. m. would be the time the mercury would top the mark.

If you would like to try your luck, just fill in the entry blank in today's Mercury and mail it to The Weather Editor, care of The Pottstown Mercury. But remember, your guess must be postmarked at least 48 hours before the actually winning time, so mail your entry in early.

The increased millage is from 45 to 51.

The board also paid bills totaling $6537 and appointed Gertrude Rahn to take the school census.

Dr. Porter's Memories —

Polio Proves Key to Future; Opens Door to Education

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series about Dr. J. Elmer Porter, doctor, banker and political figure in Pottstown).

By GORDON GRIFFITHS
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Dr. J. Elmer Porter can do practically a century of remembering—quick, accurate memories that would seem unnatural coming from a 95 year older . . .

Unless the 95 year older happens to be Jacob Elmer Porter.

The occasion for the person-to-person talk with Dr. Porter—an infrequent occasion, because he doesn't feel he's worth the bother people want to take with him—is the 75th anniversary of his graduating class at Jefferson Medical college, Philadelphia.

And it is "His" graduating class, the Class of 1886, for he is the only survivor of 225 young doctors who ventured into the world of medicine when antiseptic surgery was still experimental, no one heard of preventive medicine, hospitals were few and far between . . .

Special ceremonies honoring Dr. Porter will be tomorrow at the Brookside Country club, with approximately 30 civic and medical leaders from Pottstown and his alma mater on hand.

J. ELMER PORTER

HOW DOES he feel? "I think I owe the college a great deal. I can't see that they owe me anything."

While he has been known as a quick, astute, thorough businessman and physician, politician and financier, not taken to hilarity, Dr. Porter has remained modest through the years.

But he recalls his life with an easy clarity—as if he knew all along what he was going to say. His many years have been his reward, he seems to say, and he owes these years his memory.

Jacob Elmer Porter was born Aug. 12, 1865, on his father's farm in South Coventry township near The Buck, four months after President Abraham Lincoln was assassinated.

Samuel Porter, his father, was a miller and a farmer, and a solid Chester countain. His mother, Martha (Greenoff) Porter, was from the Greenoff family which came to the Up-

Fire on Stove Cooks Sausage, Brings Firemen

If Stanley Smolsky likes his sausage well done there should be few complaints about Wednesday night's dinner.

The sausages, in fact, went up in a puff of smoke that attracted four fire companies, more than 50 firemen and several hundred curious residents.

Smolsky, of 788 North Charlotte street, was sleeping when his wife and five children left the house at 8 o'clock. A night shift employe at Container corporation of America in Oaks, he usually ate dinner before leaving for work.

ONLY THE sausages caught fire shortly before 9 o'clock, filling first the kitchen, and then the entire first floor with smoke. At the same time Smolsky was waking up, a passerby was pulling the alarm box 2434 at the corner of North Charlotte and Wilson streets.

The fire companies arrived at just about the time Smolsky located the source of smoke and flipped it out the window.

Drive for Safe Swimming Is Still Paying Dividends

For 15 years it was "swim at your own risk" at the Upper Perkiomen Valley park in Green Lane.

Thousands of swimmers accepted the dare and won.

Five swimmers accepted the dare and lost.

The fifth victim at the unprotected 38-acre artificial lake was a 14 year old North Hills girl—and it was her death and the long editorial campaign of The Mercury that finally forced the county commissioners to change the policy.

Four lifeguards were placed at the lake in 1955.

A fifth was added several years later.

And Wednesday the county, expecting the "greatest influx of recreation seekers in its 22 year history," ordered a sixth guard at the lake.

IN ADDITION to the sixth life guard at the Upper Perkiomen Valley park, a lifeguard was also assigned for the first time to Lower Perkiomen Valley park in Oaks.

County Director of Parks Russell S. Knipe, however, said swimming in the creek at Lower Perkiomen is not encouraged since the bottom of the stream is

22 Pupils Escape Injury In Crash Of Car, Bus

The quick thinking of an Upper Frederick township school bus driver avoided what could have been tragedy early Wednesday when a car sideswiped the school bus on Neiffer road near Route 73, in Upper Frederick.

William R. Moyer, Obelisk, the school bus driver, took the northbound bus into a ditch at the side of the road when he saw the approaching car driven by Dennis Peck, 18, of Obelisk.

Twenty-two pupils between the ages of 12 and 16, on their way to the Boyertown Area Junior-Senior High school, were uninjured. Neither Moyer nor Peck was injured.

Peck told investigating Jeffersonville State Trooper Frank J. Kashetta that he was driving south on Neiffer road — three miles west of Schwenksville—when he came to a curve and "went wide on the turn."

Damage to the Upper Frederick Township school district bus was set at $350. Damage to the Peck car was estimated at $150. The collision occurred at 7:05 a. m.

Man Is Burned When Glue Ignites

John M. Granger, Boyertown RD 2, suffered burns of the fingers on his left hand Wednesday afternoon when he lit a match and ignited inflammable glue he was using to patch the punctured tube from a car tire.

He was treated at Pottstown hospital and released.

Norco 'Maze' Claims Driver

North Coventry's "Chinese maze" claimed its first victim Wednesday night—a Wisconsin businessman who took his chances driving on South Hanover street within the barricades.

Not quite as sinister as it may sound, the accident occurred when Benjamin Cline drove his car into a sewer excavation in South Pottstown. He was unhurt.

Cline, of Oshkosh, Wisc., may be used to the wide open spaces of the great Midwest, and balked when his progress toward Pottstown on Old Route 100 was stymied at Route 183.

Signs warned him "detour" and "road blocked" and "no outlet." The detour sign pointed westward toward the Route 100 bypass.

But Cline found an opening in the blockade, reserved for sewer-digging equipment, and drove up the hill at Hanover

Four Visiting Judges to Serve On County Criminal Court Bench

Four visiting judges, two serving each week, will preside in criminal court sessions scheduled for the weeks of June 19 and June 26, according to Montgomery county President Judge William F. Dannehower.

Under the Court procedure system started in January, one visiting judge has been on duty for most terms of criminal and civil court.

However, with the illness of Judge E. Arnold Forrest, who is not expected to return to his duties in time for trial sessions, it was possible to obtain services of a second visiting judge for each of the weeks.

For the first week, President Judge Edward P. Little, of Susquehanna county, and Judge Carleton T. Woodring, of Northampton County, will assist in the trial work.

Visiting judges scheduled for the second week include President Judge Herman M. Rodgers, of Mercer county, and Judge Albert S. Readinger, of Berks county.

Man Must Face Grand Jury on Gambling Charge

Earl K. Batman, East Greenville, was held for Berks county grand jury on a gambling charge after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace William C. Gruber, Heidelberg township.

Batman is charged with operating a gambling establishment at Himmelreichs Grove, on Route 422 between Robesonia and Womelsdorf.

Two Berks county detectives testified that a cash payoff was made at a wheel of chance May 21 in the grove. Batman was identified as leasing the grove, and it was testified that he gave Robert Meckley, Lancaster RD 7, permission to operate the "games" there.

Chief County Detective Edward J. Strickland and Paul J. Weidner, his assistant, were sent to the grove to check out the wheels and found two on stands and a third fastened to a tree.

STRICKLAND SAID a woman was operating one wheel, and after a man bet 10 cents on number 9 and the number won, the woman gave the bettor 50 cents.

Four men were playing at this wheel, said Strickland. Weidner remained and played three times on the wheel, two numbers at a time for a dime, but didn't win.

Strickland played two numbers for a dime on two occasions at a second wheel, but did not win. Strickland then located Meckley, who pointed out Batman.

Strickland said Batman told him that he leased the grove but had no knowledge of whether or not it was legal to allow the wheels to operate.

Attorney James M. Potter, of Reading, representing Batman, cross-examined Strickland, and detective said Batman was not present when the payoffs were made. He added that there were dolls and stuffed animals on stands behind the wheels, and they were presumed to be prizes.

Strickland pointed out, however, that while he and Weidner were present, there were no other winners besides the man who received 50 cents cash.

Potter asked for dismissal on the grounds that Batman was not aware of the cash payoff. Assistant District Attorney William George argued that the charge of operating a gambling establishment should be upheld because the detectives testified to the cash transaction and Batman admitted leasing the site.

Truck Hits Wire, Causes Blackout In Bally Area

An area from Boyertown northward to Landis Store lost all electric power Wednesday night from 10:30 o'clock to 11:10 o'clock when a tractor-trailer in Bally backed into a support wire to a utility pole, pulling over the pole and interrupting 40,000 volts of current.

The Conestoga Telephone company also reported trouble on its lines, and "sparking" wires were reported as far away as Birdsboro, although it is not known if the latter condition was related to the Bally mishap.

Bally Ribbon Mills, incorporated, and Bally Case and Cooler company both were forced to shut down operations when the power failed.

Metropolitan Edison company sent a full crew to restore power at the accident scene, opposite the Bally Block company. The tractor trailer, operating out of Charlotte, North Carolina, backed out of the plant and into the "guy" wire. The driver did not notice that the truck was forcing the pole down.

Songs, Spoofs Mark Year End School Frolic

Humorous monologues, barber shop type singing, and a spoofing of current rock and roll singing favorites marked the Pottsgrove High school class day celebration held before pupils and parents at a special assembly.

One of the highlights of the program was a "girls" kickline consisting of boys from the Senior class.

Billed as a "surpirse" on the program was the unexpected appearance of a quartet of rock and roll musicians clad as Swiss yodelers with the traditional feathered hat and short trousers. Ronald Sekellick, Alan Hutt, Tim Cooney, and Jay Novak provided the rollicking rock and roll pantomine.

Peggy Miller turned comedienne to do a monologue entitled "Speechless Speechmaker," and members of the class turned back the clock to review "1961 — That Wonderful Year" via song and poetry.

NANCY BUCHHOLTZ sang the principal song of the review, "Pottsgrove," and a class poem set to music was read by Jean Hunsberger. Norma Decker sang "You'll Never Walk Alone."

A barber shop quartet entertained with songs reminiscent of the Gay 90s era and members of the class ended the show with a rendition of "Marching Along Together."

Richard Kalwaic acted as master of ceremony and Kathryn Wenhold, Senior class adviser, supervised the production.

Road Problems In Collegeville Occupy Council

Collegeville borough council Wednesday night devoted most of its meeting to street problems and their correction.

A resolution moved a stop sign from Chestnut street to Fourth street at the intersection of those two streets, in order to slow Fourth street traffic and allow motorists a through crossing on Chestnut street.

The street and road committee reported extensive street repairs, made necessary by the battering during heavy snows of the past Winter, were completed.

The committee is preparing a report for the July council meeting which will propose parking revisions. The changes are being made to impose certain limitations which will open crowded streets and keep traffic moving on main roads.

French Creek Board Awards Contracts

Awarding of school contracts was announced Wednesday by the French Creek Valley Jointure which met earlier in the week.

Contracts awarded were: Swann company, fuel oil; William Bolton, roof repairs and painting; Stanley Focht, flooring; Joseph Whiteman, lighting fixtures, and Metzler's Tree service, tree trimming.

The hiring of a new First grade teacher—Mrs. Louis Ragan, Paoli—was announced.

DR. PORTER'S older brother, John, died in Wichita, Kansas, about ten years ago, after a long career in the milling business there.

A younger brother, Samuel, was Dr. Porter's partner in community affairs here until three years ago, when he died. Another brother and a sister died of tuberculosis while they were in their teens.

Dr. Porter was stricken with infantile paralysis when he was two years old, and it shortened his right leg. "But my disadvantages became my advantages," Dr. Porter proclaims.

Because of his weakened condition, he went to the old Franklin school in South Coventry the year around, and was a topnotch pupil. His first teacher was the father of John Stamm, another of Pottstown's venerable old gentlemen at 87 years of age.

HE GRADUATED from Pottstown High school in 1882—the first four-year class to graduate. "There were four of us—two boys and two girls," Dr. Porter quickly volunteered.

"Ralph Shaner was the other boy. May Ellis and Allie Hartman were the girls."

Professor W. W. Rupert, Pottstown's first superintendent of schools, was Dr. Porter's High school teacher. "He was a grand man—from West Chester. When you got finished under him, your head was just solid . . . with learning," Dr. Porter quipped slyly, with a smile.

The young graduate became a teacher immediately, tutoring the youngsters at the school near Brownback's church. He completed one term as teacher and gave it up.

"Oh, I could do it all right, but I decided I just didn't want to continue," said Dr. Porter, explaining how he decided to take up pharmacy with the Cunningham Drug store at 447 High street.

At this point, his brother and sister died of tuberculosis, and his physical condition was weakened. A doctor who did business with Cunningham advised young Porter to get outside.

"And I listened," is Dr. Porter's to-the-point explanation of the turning point of his life. He journeyed to Philadelphia to begin his medical studies in 1884.

HE PAID for his education on his savings from his teaching and drug store jobs—practicing the thrift that helped him become a successful banker and businessman in the following 75 years.

"But I couldn't have done it alone. My father was fairly successful and he helped me." He completed the last two-year term at Jefferson in 1886. State laws changed requirements at this point.

"I felt too young when I graduated (he was 20), so I took a post-graduate course at Jefferson for two more years," Dr. Porter recalled his decision.

It was this ambition which characterized the next 75 years of his life, all spent in Pottstown. It would be safe to say he influenced community life here during that period more than any other individual.

The years of youth, when there is less responsibility, are enjoyable — but the anxieties of youth are also very marked, and there are few young people who escape them. — (Eleanor Roosevelt)

A Douglassville Boom

A booming Amity township was presaged in the announcement of the Douglassville Development corporation that contractors had signed to put up $2.5 million worth of homes next year.

One hundred fifty new dwellings are carded for construction next year, and 650 scheduled for construction within five years.

Eight hundred homes will mean the addition of 3200 persons if a national average of four persons per home is employed. If 800 breadwinners earn a low average of $5000 a year, there'll be $4 million added to the local economy.

It looks grand for merchants and churches and doctors and others. It also may pose some problems for township officials, especially to school directors.

Will this mean a change in plans for erection of a new jointure high school? Will the center of population shift and cause schoolmen to change their minds about building the projected school in Birdsboro?

The building boom will mean much to the thriving Pottstown community.

You Can Trust Communists

PRESIDENT John F. Kennedy rather dourly admitted after his Nikita Khrushchev talks that "East is East and West is West, and never the twain shall meet."

He said "the Soviets and ourselves give wholly different meanings to the same words; war, peace, democracy and popular will.

"We have wholly different views of right and wrong.

"We believe in a system of national freedom and independence. He believes in world communism.

"And the question was whether these two systems can ever hope to live in peace," the President added. "I think we owe it to all mankind to make every possible effort."

That's why The Mercury decided to publish in serial form the book "You CAN Trust the Communists," by Dr. Fred Schwarz, an active campaigner against communism.

The book jacket declares:

"The title of this book is not as startling as it may seem, because in one sense the communists can be trusted. They have stated their intentions, their beliefs and even their methods in plain, unmistakable words. They published their message in every language the world over.

"And they can be trusted to follow these intentions unceasingly.

"The communists say they are in a fight to the finish with capitalism, that class warfare is inevitable and can end only in complete victory for one side.

"They are dedicated to the death in this fight and they believe the end justifies the means. Any method they use, any way they use it, any result it may have is justifiable to them.

"The communists believe that absolute, ruthless dictatorship is necessary for their rule. And they give this dictatorial power to those who rule the central committee of the communist party.

"How do we know this is true; how do we believe such statements? The answer is past evidence — evidence written, spoken, and acted out in cold, calculated planning. The communists announced their plans and followed them through, not once but many times. Their timetable for world conquest is published, and, this far, they are on schedule.

The book, "You CAN Trust the Communists," shows that you can trust the communists to pursue their plan for world domination, but it places in your hands the most effective defense weapon their is.

You can have full knowledge of communism, learn to understand it, oppose it, and bring true freedom to prevail if you read this serialization in The Mercury beginning Tuesday.

Way We Do It

IN essence, what distinguishes our form of government from the monstrous totalitarianism that bleeds the vital of millions under communism, is that we in America have the sacred opportunity to work together for the correction of abuse and injustice.

PUNKIN CORNERS,
June 7.

Editor, The Mercury,
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where in New York a 235-pound ex-professional wrestler tackled a 300-pound hog as it fled through the streets, after escaping from a slaughterhouse. I'm glad to report the ex-matman brought home the bacon.

It took 15 minutes, however, before the one-time grappler had the big porker thoroughly hog-tied.

And say, The US Food and Drug Administration seizes 2700 pounds of Swiss cheese which, it said, contained phony holes. How do you go about faking nothing?

Hopin' you air the same,

Blow Whistle on Grad Night Brawls!

'Measures Must Be Taken'

To the Editor: This week or next, when graduation time arrives, we will be hit by a surge of wild after-prom parties and beer brawls as the seniors go on their traditional "grad night" spree.

Oh, I know! They will deny this, but grownups know it's a fact. There'll be all night parties and automobile joy rides.

Not only is this practice something the students themselves will regret later, but it also puts a bad name on the majority of teen-agers who are clean, decent kids and just out to have a good time.

How do we stop these graduation nightmares and still let the kids have fun?

Some communities have tried a "teen code" in which liquor is taboo, adequate lighting is insisted on for all home parties, and a sensible closing time is set up.

Still other smaller cities have let the affair go on all night but parents have supervised wholesome group activities.

I am not sure what can be done to curb this rising tide of senseless and wild partying, but what I am sure of is that some measures must be taken, and quickly.

Pottstown RD INTERESTED

"Antis" Don't Win

To the Editor: Anti-communism can never defeat communism any more than anti-atheism has ever defeated atheism, or anti-Semitism, Semitism, etc.

Only more ardent support for a greater faith can defeat communism.

Our trouble is that we do not have it, and if we do not get it, the communists will get us.

Perkiomenville O. O.

Yankee Ingenuity

To the Editor: When the United States was a small, weak nation, we were known for Yankee ingenuity. Men like Franklin, Washington and Jefferson won praise and friends in a world then living in an age of kings.

Today we are living in a decade of dictators. The Russian dictator, while supplying Castro with munitions, is still willing to talk "peace and peace-ful coexistence" with President Kennedy.

The simple answer to the Communist problem for the United States would be to break relations at once with Khrushchev and his satellites, and to oust them all from the United Nations.

A little Yankee ingenuity on the New Frontier could do wonders. New summits can only spell further disaster.

Miss Midnight's Notebook

DICK CLARK'S friends are betting he won't remain long in the bachelor state after his pending divorce becomes final. They think the Girl Most Likely To Succeed as the next Mrs. Clark is singer Connie Francis; the popular disc jockey "sparked" to her when he did a television show at her home some months ago.

Monte Proser and Joe Kipness want to bring live music and entertainment to their Lanai Restaurant on Broadway, but for some reason they're having trouble getting a cabaret license.

Vivian Blaine, estranged from Milton Rackmill, is being cheered by Joe Siralo, a member of the cast of "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Rex Harrison, who has been known to go to great lengths to keep his private life private, surprised everyone by allowing a photographer into his villa at Portofino and posing for pictures with his pretty house guest, Rachel Roberts. Rachel is waiting for her marriage to actor Alan Dobie to be dissolved; meanwhile, Rex has invited her parents to spend some time at the villa, so it's beginning to look more and more like a happy family affair.

NANCY KOVACK is currently first choice for the role of Marlon Brando's wife in "The Ugly American."

Gregg Juarez, much-publicized ex-husband of aircraft heiress Bobo Sigrist, writes friends that the British press is very interested in the section of his life story which he calls "My Life With Bobo." He says, "Four papers want to run the serialization before Summer, and I have decided it goes to the highest bidder. At the moment, I have $30,000 offered plus 50 percent of the world rights, but we are still negotiating."

Sarah Vaughan's husband - manager, C. B. Atkins, had a bit of trouble with the sidemen who accompanied Sassy during her recent engagement at Basin Street East but everything was ironed out after a warning to Atkins from officials of Local 802.

Comedian Roger Price and his wife, Misa Ban, have separated and will seek a divorce later this month.

Producer Irving Levin wants Steve Lawrence to star in "The Lou Lenart Story," based on the legendary Israeli "paper air force" which started Israel's war of independence in 1948.

SIMONE SIGNORET, now officially considered "The Winnah" by the cinema set, had more comments to make in Cannes the other day on the subject of the Yves Montand-Marilyn Monroe cause celebre. "I find that I am cast in a story and in a role not of my own choosing," Simone declared. "It is certainly a good cast—Monroe, Arthur Miller, Yves and myself. An all-star cast in a very old story. And I have the best part because the public insists on casting me as the heroine. I find it all very boring. Look, what man did not have a little love affair? And now I am slapped on the back as if I have achieved something great.

Charlton Heston has been named official State Department representative to the Berlin Film Festival.

More and more Broadway-bound shows are attempting to improve their chances of making it by taking longer out-of-town tours, and spending their tryout weeks farther and farther from New York. For example, the Kermit Bloomgarden musical, "The Gay Life" is set for a Fall premiere in Detroit, which means that when it finally opens on Broadway there may be a few people in the audience who haven't seen it. The scourge of producers is the junketing Main Stem wisie—and there are hundreds of them who always make it to Philadelphia, New Haven or Boston when a play is in the process of being fixed.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

DR. JOHN took me aside when I addressed the Ohio State Dental association.

"My wife will be here at the luncheon," he began, "for we have scheduled you to address both the dentists and their women folks.

"And the women are all expecting you to talk about sex, so we have alloted an hour and a half for your address. Take more time if you wish.

"But please give them at least 30 minutes about marriage problems. For my wife needs to wake up. We are both in the middle 40s.

"Yet she acts as if she were 90, and apparently expects me to snore contentedly in my twin bed till morning, without any interest in erotic matters!

"Several other dentists have the same problem, so please wake up our wives."

DIVORCES usually start in the bedroom. And educated women, like these dental wives, are often the victims of divorce, chiefly because of their sins of omission.

They get so interested in their children (or grandchildren), plus their gardening or Red Cross and church duties, that they fail to realize their husbands give them the pay check every week primarily to serve as a private paramour!

Ladies, don't think I am joking!

"Dr. Crane," many prominent men have confessed to me, "I would much rather have an affair with my wife than with any other woman I have ever seen.

"But my wife acts disinterested. She is about 100 percent maternal. But I married her to get a sweetheart, too.

"Yet as soon as our children arrived, she didn't even remain 50-50, but swung over to almost 100 percent maternal.

"Why won't modern women realize that husbands retain their erotic interest in women as long as they live?

"Just because children arrive, doesn't cut down a man's interest in sex any more than it does his fondness for beefsteak and potatoes.

"Our wives realize we still crave the meat and potatoes. But they act as if we suddenly should lose all our romantic appetite."

ONE REASON why wives enter the divorce courts is the fact they are naturally frigid, despite Dr. Kinsey's erroneous report to the contrary.

And men must recognize the fact that a woman loses most of her erotic hunger when the honeymoon novelty wears off.

Give her a couple of children, plus activity in church, PTA or Women's clubs, and she can be fairly content the rest of her life with no more erotic attention than a fatherly peck on the cheek in the morning plus a goodnight kiss at bedtime.

But you wives must wake up. Just because God Almighty created you to have less stomach hunger than men, doesn't cause you to short ration your mates at the dinner table.

Send for "How to Make An Interesting Speech," for 20 cents and a long 4c stamped, addressed envelope. Address Dr. Crane at The Mercury.

Inside Television

By EVE STARR

STARR REPORT: A new motion picture will very shortly be foisted upon the movie-going public. It has already played at the Radio City Music Hall in New York City. Just how it found its way into the Music Hall I don't pretend to know. It's the kind of thing some Congressional committee should perhaps investigate.

The name of this picture is "Parrish." So far as I can make out, It's sole purpose is to shove one Troy Donahue down the throats of the American public as a star.

Donahue has been receiving his "grooming" in a Warner Brothers TV series called "Surfside 6," as bad an example of grind-em-out TV film as is currently on the airwaves. Associated with him in "Surfside 6" is Miss Diane McBain, who also appears in "Parrish."

Other Warner trainees in the picture include Connie Stevens, of "Hawaiian Eye," and Sharon Hugueny. Miss Stevens does quite well. Miss Hugueny does reasonably well. Miss McBain does adequately. Mr. Donahue is atrocious.

WHEN I say atrocious, I do not mean it unkindly. Merely factually. Donahue simply doesn't know anything about acting. He has one set facial expression—that of a man who has just swallowed a rotten egg and doesn't dare complain about it.

If he is not the original wooden Indian, he is a very sizeable chip off the old block. To repeat, he is simply not an actor in any sense of the word except the modern one.

This one would have actor mean—any reasonably handsome young man of sufficient physique who can be palmed off on the public as a genuine star. As witness Gardner McKay, Tab Hunter, Jim Arness, etc., etc.

IN ADDITION to featuring young Donahue, "Parrish" also features some incredibly bad writing, inept directing and sloppy editing.

It is not a funny picture (intentionally, that is), or an entertaining one, or does it have anything to say.

There are some lovely color shots of New England and a promising performance turned in by young Connie Stevens. Aside from that, the picture is rather insulting to the intelligence of the audience.

Interpreting The News

Chinese Reds Seen Behind Laos Crisis

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Premier Prince Boun Oum of Laos blames the Soviet Union for the continued Communist attacks there, but the trouble seems due more directly to the possibility that the Chinese Reds have stopped up their ears against Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

President Kennedy reported after Vienna that "both sides recognized the importance of an effective cease-fire in Laos.

This does not mean that Khrushchev's lip service to the concept of an independent and neutral Laos represents any real commitment.

It applies more directly to the Kennedy appraisal that the Soviet premier "believes the world will go his way without resort to force," which must be coupled with his other belief in military aid for revolutionary forces within countries.

Disclaimer by Khrushchev of blame for all of the world's many disorders may also be connected with Red Chinese action.

Khrushchev, just as aware as anyone of the dangers of modern war, has been campaigning with Red China as well as with the West for the right to conduct the world conflict on economic and political lines.

There is some reason for believing that the Soviet Union got involved in Laos in order to prevent Communist expansion from becoming a unilateral Chinese success which would have ended real Soviet influence in Asia as it was ended in North Korea.

American intelligence reports credit the Chinese with a military buildup of strategic importance in areas adjacent to the food and mineral resources of Southeast Asia.

American diplomats repeatedly refer to what they are calling the Sino-centric, with traditional Chinese expansionism as the chief threat to peace in the area.

And the Red leaders of China repeatedly refer to war, as opposed to peaceful coexistence or peaceful competition, as the only means of expanding the Communist revolution.

Observers estimated after the issuance of the Communist manifesto from Moscow last year that its compromise on this point merely represented a truce of expediency between the Soviet and Red Chinese attitudes.

The Communists in southwest China and North Viet Nam, through the renewal of serious fighting in Laos and the stepped-up activities of their terrorists in South Viet Nam, are now lending support to these assessments.

The Communist party paper Pravda said Wednesday the Soviet Union would try to improve relations with the United States and the West in an effort to improve the international climate and rule out war.

The Chinese Reds show no intention of swallowing that, even with a whole handful of the salt with which the West will take it.

Pottstown Sketches

"I think we should set aside something each month—starting with setting aside the doctor's bill."

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Old Home Sold . . . Off To Europe . . .

★ SOLD — Signs of life are visible again in one of the oldest homes in the area. It's the spacious colonial stone home owned until recently by Alvin H. Fisher, located at North Manatawny street and Grosstown road, Upper Pottsgrove township. Its new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hams, Bryn Mawr, are in the process of moving into the home they bought through Mrs. Harry D. Wagonhurst, wife of the Boyertown dentist and agent for the Greismer agency, Quakertown. Their new home predates the founding of Pottstown by a quarter of a century. It was built by German settlers in 1727, and remained unchanged until Fisher, when president of Boyertown Planing Mills company, bought it and made widespread renovations. The house, when Fisher finished , had a completely restored set of random oak floors, center hall, winding staircase, three fireplaces, and eight exposed-beam ceilinged rooms. One modern touch is it's completely air conditioned. Fisher, well known to areaites, was affiliated with the planing mill 35 years. He left for Arizona with his wife each year to care for her asthmatic condition. Then, in July 1959, he bought a ranch near Tucson, Ariz., and left the 22 acre farmsite. Currently he's back in town for a visit with friends.

TOUR—Mrs. Whitney R. Kerchner, wife of the Firestone executive of 829 Worth boulevard, Kenilworth, left Pottstown to make a boat trip from New York city to Hamburg, Germany. She's traveling with a sister, Mrs. Robert McKeever, of Oreland, and her neice, Katharine. Once the threesome clears the Baltic port of Hamburg, they'll get a car and tour the continent, visiting Italy, Germany, France and Switzerland. They'll be gone about 2½ months. One of their visits will be with another Firestone family, that of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Dimaggio. Until three months ago he was local Firestone plant manager. Now he's plant manager of the new Firestone plant in Bethune, France.

★ SUGGESTION — Remember the tale of the Roman gent who fiddled away while his hometown burned? Well, James L. Rowland, 14 South Keim street, dispatcher for Goodwill Fire company, has a novel idea that he's been fiddling with for some time. Like most firemen, he's sick and tired of well-meaning but annoying persons who flock after fire engines and get in the way at the scene of a fire. Rowland's idea is for the fire company to buy an old hook and ladder truck, rig it up with bleachers on both sides, and take it to a fire with the more useful equipment. This way, the character who likes to get in the way and slow up firefighting can get a reserved ringside seat for the red hot show. The company, Rowland proposes, could pay for the gear by charging 25 cents per seat. It'd give local concessionnaires a shot in the arm, too. Ice cream, soda and candy peddlers could hawk their wares around this smoke cured grandstand on wheels.

SERVICE STUFF — Home on leave for the first time in many years is Air Force Capt. Martin Lerner, who's stationed at the air force's missile plant in Brigham City, Utah, where he's a deputy procurement officer. He'll be spending a month with his mother, Mrs. Minnie Lerner, 301 North Franklin street. . . . Navy Sonarman First Class Paul L. Batman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Batman, 74 North Adams street, was graduated from sonar specialist school in Key West, Fla. . . . Marine Private First Class John D. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stone, Green Lane, was graduated from aviation school at Naval Air Technical Training center, Memphis, Tenn. . . . Marine Private John J. Wasiluk Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wasiluk Sr, 337 East Philadelphia avenue, Boyertown, completed basic training at Parris Island, S. C.

★ HORSE SENSE — Eight years ago, Fritz Frey, owner of the Arrow Camera shop, 80 North Charlotte street, bought a 30 acre farm on Route 422 in Amity township to use as pastureland for horses. Since then the duties in his store became more time consuming, so Frey sold the farm early this week. Its new owner is Milton F. Tithohl, Huntingdon valley, sales manager for a Philadelphia manufacturing company. The sale was made by Donald F. Specht of the Robert H. Delong agency. . . . Frey's son, Donald F., of Douglassville, currently is building a new home at Yarnall and Mock roads, Upper Pottsgrove township. He'll move in by mid-Summer with his wife and three kids.

sibility of the project would rest with the local and not the joint authority.

Bryan also reported on a conference with Harold Binder, Pottstown school board solicitor, inquiring into the possibility of financing the Limerick school project with a general obligation bond.

"Mr. Binder told me this was the method used by Pottstown when it needed funds to convert the old senior high school into another junior high school. The board put the issue to a general vote and it was endorsed five to one."

In other business, the board submitted the contract from Fridy, Gauker, and Fridy, incorporated, Philadelphia architects, to Bryan for legal perusal. Employment of the Philadelphia firm to draw up plans for the new addition was approved at the last meeting.

All members were present at the meeting presided over by Dr. Hess.

down to $489,000 for the sewage treatment plant, $88,000 for an inceptor line and $60,000 for two pumping stations. A joint plant would be located in Douglass township and have a capacity of a million gallons daily.

The cost to each borough resident would then be $20.25—a savings of more than $9, he pointed out. Asked what the corresponding cost for the townships would be, he said it "would be impossible to tell since the Glace and Glace study only took in the borough."

HE ALSO pointed out that the townships would have a hookup and frontage fee, in addition to the annual rental charge which would include the amortization of the plant. He said the plant could be financed either through an authority or by a bond issue.

If the joint system is approved the borough will finance the entire project and then recover the construction costs through the rental fees, Read said.

He also reiterated borough council's decision to place the question of a sewer system before the public in a referendum before any final action is taken.

BIGGER BILL IS QUESTIONED BY BOARD

to the SPCA.

"It's the only thing we can do," said Gerald Miner, West Pottsgrove chief of police. "We can't allow dogs to run wild—I've been getting two calls a day on stray dogs. If we take them to a vet, they charge us too much. If we shoot them—we have the SPCA on our necks. We might as well make a donation to the SPCA and let it take care of them."

Chief Miner explained he would need aid to capture the wary dogs, living outside the law.

"It's more than one man can handle," he said. "These dogs are cagey—they know a police officer when they see one, and they run. I can't keep up with them."

Miner was offered aid and the necessary equipment to trap the dogs.

IN CLEANING up another Summer problem; one commissioner suggested the township adopt a "weed-up" week in addition to the yearly "Cleanup Week."

Hartman noted a lot in Stowe in which the weeds were "three feet high."

"We spend all that money for spraying — and for what?" he demanded. "People let these weeds grow."

The board also approved a motion to advertise for bids on stoning and oiling of the following streets:

Howard street from Race to Center;

Berks street from Glasgow street to Grosstown road;

Vine street from Berks to Center, and Center street from Route 422 to Vine street.

The board will open bids on June 26.

A motion to place two additional street lights on Glasgow street and one on Race street was accepted by the board.

The troublesome problem of overflowing and backing-up of sewers was discussed briefly, and one solution—overflow pipes—suggested.

Engineer Shaner explained this was not fully acceptable to the county, although it was a common practice in the North End of Pottstown. He added the possible pollution of water was slight.

"I don't see how we can blame these young people (Freedom Riders)," the governor said. "In fact I think we can't help but admire them."

Your Horoscope

The Stars Say—By ESTRELLITA

For Today

THIS DAY'S horoscope is a good one. Aspects especially favor outdoor activities, travel and romance. Most folks should be in congenial mood and group activities of any kind should prove highly enjoyable.

For The Birthday

If today is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that, for the next four months, it would be advisable to make the very best use of your skills and talents, since the aspects will be fine for occupational gain, and you may be highly gratified at the recognition you receive in October. Another upward step is indicated in December — along with opportunities for further expansion during the first six months of 1962.

The next three months will be excellent for social doings, and short trips made either this month or in October could prove highly enjoyable. Look for some excellent news on the financial front in December, but do avoid extravagance in November. Otherwise, the monetary situation looks good.

A child born on this day will be highly capable, resourceful and unusually sympathetic toward his fellowmen.

TODAY'S TEENAGER

Ellen McGrath, 17, is a Senior at Daniel Boone Joint Area High school. This pert brunette is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McGrath, and lives in Monocacy Station. She was captain of the varsity cheerleading and hockey teams and participated in them three years. She also was a class representative on school council throughout high school.

Ellen also is active in youth work at St. Paul's United Church of Christ, Amityville.

She plans to start training for a stewardess' career this Fall at Central Technical Institute, Hartford, Conn.

Among her hobbies are swimming and dancing.

Ex-Sailor Gives Advice

Kennedy Speaks To Midshipmen

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — A World War II PT boat commander who jested about his own professional and physical perfection as a sailor had some solemn words Wednesday for the U. S. Naval Academy graduting class.

"The answer to those who challenge us so severely in so many parts of the globe lies in our willingness to freely commit ourselves to the maintenance of our country and for the things for which it stands," said President Kennedy.

Mixing wit with solemnity, Kennedy told the 785 graduates that "vigilance and firmness and devotion are the great servants of the country, and let us have no doubt that the United States needs your devoted assistance today."

Kennedy flew by helicopter from the White House to Annapolis and returned after the colorful graduating ceremonies. He was given a rousing reception when he arrived at the academy field house and again when he was introduced by Rear Adm. John F. Davidson, the academy superintendent.

An honor guard and the Navy band were at the heliport when he arrived and the 21-gun presidential salute was fired.

Kennedy seemed to have as much fun as anyone when the 1961 academy anchor man was revealed. Each year the graduate with the lowest scholastic standing is designated the anchor man.

This year he is Richard Watkins Holt, 22, of Carmel, Calif., whose mother, Estella Mahon Holt lives in Madrid, Spain.

Kennedy laughed heartily and joined in the applause as classmates of the 19th Company hoisted Holt onto their shoulders and marched him about the big field house.

Kennedy, following his speech, personally handed out diplomas to those 95 graduating with distinction. They were headed by Jerome F. Smith Jr. of San Diego Calif.

Kennedy gave each of the honor graduates a handshake and a word of praise.

All but four of the 785 receiving diplomas are being commissioned in the armed services. Three of the remaining four are not being commissioned because of physical reasons and one, Victor L. Mamon, is a Filipino, who will be commissioned in his country's navy.

Kennedy, who seldom wears hats, wound up with a midshipman's hat.

As part of the graduating exercises, the graduates throw their caps, which will be replaced by officers' caps, into the audience. Someone gave Kennedy one he had caught. He carried it away with him.

The President remarked in his speech that he was aware that midshipmen are constantly warned during the days at Annapolis not to mix politics with their naval careers.

"I should point out however, on the other side, that my rather rapid rise from a reserve lieutenant of uncertain standing to commander in chief has been because I did not follow that very good advice," Kennedy said.

This brought uproarious laughter.

Describing himself as "a retired civilian officer," Kennedy said that in his Navy career he never reached the state of professional and physical perfection where he could hope that anyone would ever mistake him for an Annapolis graduate.

Turkish Police Report Revolution Plot

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Turkish police and military officials say they have uncovered a ring plotting to overthrow the government of Gen. Cemal Gursel.

Authorities announced arrest of 11 dichard supporters of the discredited Democrat party of ousted Premier Adnan Menderes.

Press reports said they planned to arm a group of supporters who would overthrow the military government.

Johnson Speaks

West Point Graduation Has Strong Texas Tinge

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson urged the graduating class of the U. S. Military Academy Wednesday to help the free world "win the battle of ideas" in the cold war.

"Carry the message of America to all corners of the world," the Texan said in ceremonies attended by 9,000 parents, other relatives and friends in the academy field house overlooking the Hudson River.

He said armed strength and scientific achievement alone would not assure a peaceful future.

"That can be ours only if we win the minds of men for truth and right," he told the 534 graduates. "It is imperative that you prepare yourselves in every possible way to carry your full pack in this endeavor."

Johnson said another challenge facing the graduates is a changing pattern of warfare, with guerrilla tactics, night movements and flexible operations assuming new importance.

"The Communists will find that a nation which produced Davy Crockett and Daniel Boone and Jim Bowie is afraid of no forest, no swamp and no game of fighting however toughly it is played," he said in an underscored section of his text.

The graduation had a heavily Texan tinge.

Johnson was greeted on his arrival at the academy by the two highest-rated members of the graduating class—both fellow Texans.

They were Cadet John L. Kammerdiener, 23, of Alice, the No. 1 man in general order of merit, and Cadet Howard D. Gaves, 21, of Amarillo.

The two cadets waited for Johnson at the residence of Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, academy superintendent, who had met Johnson at nearby Stewart Air Force Base.

Geneva Conference is Imperiled By Capture of Laotian Village

GENEVA (AP)—The capture of the little Laotian village of Padong by Communist-led rebels threatened Wednesday to break up the Geneva conference on Laos. Its continuance may depend on the course the Soviet delegation takes as a result of the Kennedy-Khrushchev summit talk.

An American source said Wednesday night the U. S. delegation would not go back into the 14-nation meeting until a satisfactory cease-fire prevails.

The day's meeting was canceled by the British cochairman and the U. S. source said it was likely Thursday's session also would be canceled.

Delegations indicated they preferred to wait for the arrival Thursday evening of Andrei Gromyko, Soviet foreign minister. He was in Vienna when President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev agreed last weekend there must be an effective cease-fire in Laos.

Delegates speculated that Gromyko is carrying new Kremlin instructions.

If Soviet action really brings a cease-fire, U. S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman is ready to start talking again at the conference about the future of the troubled jungle country.

After receiving a cable from the State Department, Harriman went to Soviet Ambassador Georgi Pushkin and told him the United States considers the Soviet Union and Red China as the cease-fire violators. He pleaded with Pushkin to help insure freedom for the international watchdog commission in Laos.

Although many sources are pessimistic about chances for creating a neutral Laos, the U. S. delegation retains some hope, based on a belief that the Soviet Union would not like to see Red China expand into the area.

When news of Padong's capture came, the United States considered pulling out. Then, one source said, it decided to stay and battle for a true cease-fire.

Later came the assertion that the United States was reverting to the stand it had taken with Britain before the conference opened May 16: No cease-fire, no negotiating.

According to information reaching the U. S. delegation, the pro-Communist forces in Laos have generally halted their forward movement since a cease-fire was proclaimed May 3, and they have concentrated their activity on the Padong area.

The mile-high mountain village is not even a dot on most maps. But its position as a royal Laotian garrison post 20 miles southwest of rebel headquarters, Xieng Khouang, made it a symbol of resistance to rebel encroachments.

The artillery-supported rebel attack carried its objectives about dawn.

Western delegates, shocked by the news, arranged to cancel the scheduled session and cabled their governments for instructions on whether it would be worthwhile to carry on.

British and French delegations were not anxious to walk out, even though the American delegation was talking about it.

"The violators of the cease-fire are sitting right there in Geneva," a State Department spokesman said.

He referred to the Communist side of the conference, which includes the Soviet Union and Red China.

Britain planned urgent talks with the United States and other allies over the Padong situation, which an authoritative London source said "seems to us to be a clear-cut violation of the truce agreement."

Indications were that Britain would plug for a middle way. One possibility being considered is the idea of a strong Western warning to Khrushchev that another serious violation would bring about collapse of the peace talks.

Pro-Western Laotian forces have been losing steadily to Red-led and Communist-supplied troops in Laos despite American instructors and hundreds of millions of dollars in U.S. military and economic aid.

Attempted Commie Coup Is Reported in Bolivia

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Bolivian government stifled an attempted coup by Communist elements Wednesday, private sources in Buenos Aires reported. President Kennedy's special envoy, Adlai E. Stevenson, now in Buenos Aires on his South American tour, is due in Bolivia June 15.

The coup report could not be confirmed in official quarters. A spokesman at the Bolivian Embassy here said, "We have heard nothing except these rumors and unconfirmed reports."

Cable communications with La Paz, the Bolivian capital, were cut off by a telegraph operators strike. Telephone operators here said telephone circuits with La Paz were "interrupted for the time being."

A Buenos Aires radio station, without attributing its information to any source, said Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro declared a state of siege—similar to martial law—and announced he would call up the workers' militia Thursday.

Private informants said numerous persons were arrested after the attempted coup was crushed and strict security measures taken throughout the country, especially in the restless tin-mining centers.

Bolivia's economy is dependent on the nationalized tin mines, which in recent years have been operating at a loss.

The tin miners long have been a powerful political factor and have staged a series of strikes, charging the government has not paid their wages, and demanding that it accept a Soviet offer of economic aid.

President Paz Estenssoro recently encountered strong opposition from miners' unions when he decided that workers on strike would not be paid wages. He also has encountered opposition to his efforts to enforce a stringent anti-inflationary policy to comply with conditions of the International Monetary Fund.

POPULATION CLIMBS

LONDON (AP)—Britain's population has climbed almost 2 million in the last 10 years to a record 52,675,094, a preliminary parliamentary report on the 1961 census shows.

Reuther Drafts Reply to Castro On Tractor Deal

DETROIT (AP)—The Tractors for Freedom Committee said Wednesday it felt the way was open for negotiations with Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro on its plan to trade 500 tractors for 1,200 prisoners despite Castro charges of unnecessary delays.

Walter P. Reuther, committee cochairman and president of the United Auto Workers Union, said the committee would not be able to reply until Thursday to Castro's cable in which the Cuban prime minister outlined his terms for the proposed trade. He added that the committee felt Castro's terms "leave the way open for negotiations between the committee and Mr. Castro."

Reuther, in a statement for the committee, said: "Because of physical difficulties in getting the committee together today, and since they are all in separate parts of the country, we have nothing to announce this evening. We expect to have a reply ready tomorrow."

Reuther said he had begun to draft a reply to Castro but emphasized that the reply still was in the note stage. He also said no decision has been made as to whether the committee would send a delegation to Cuba as Castro specified in his message.

Castro had said, "The raising and negotiation of this problem cannot be made only by cable, and it is better that a delegation should be sent to Cuba. In this there should be one of the principal members of the committee, preferably Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt or Milton Eisenhower whose names, because they are better known in the political spheres, would contribute to the solution of the matter."

Angola Riot Key to Future For Portuguese Dictatorship

By LOUIS NEVIN

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Dictator Antonio Salazar, 72, has staked the future of his 29-year rule in Portugal on crushing a revolt in Angola. His unbending stand is worrying Portugal's allies.

The premier has made himself personally responsible for the success or failure of operations against the Angola rebellion.

He said the one word "Angola" explained his April 13 shakeup of his Cabinet and the high military command.

That was only partly true. The Angola campaign had been lagging and new energy was needed.

Salazar dismissed a general from the Defense Ministry and ousted the war minister, the chief of the general staff and the military governor of Lisbon, among others.

Widespread dissension in the armed forces was a basic cause for these actions, reliable informants say.

Opponents of the regime are becoming more open and vocal. Fighting is spreading in Angola and is reported to have extended to Mozambique, although still on the basis of isolated incidents.

Yet the white-haired, quiet-spoken premier offers no easing of his dictatorship at home or overseas as the dissenting ministers and officers urged. His policy is to crush the overseas terrorism, as he sees it, and return to much the same status as before it began.

A few reforms have been put through since the start of the uprising but they benefit almost exclusively the white population.

Salazar's rigidity toward Angola and Mozambique, in a continent swept by the ferment of nationalism, alarms his allies. The United States has already voted against Portugal on the Angolan question in the United Nations, where the question comes up again Tuesday.

Lord Home, British foreign secretary, on a visit here last month, is said to have given a lot of advice to Salazar and Foreign Minister Alberto Franco Nogueira.

There is a basis for Salazar's attitude, for the huge African lands, Angola and Mozamibuqe, together three times the size of Texas, are keys to the Portuguese economy. They more than make up the annual trade deficit of the motherland and their resources have been barely tapped.

Both countries are populated by Negroes of the Bantu race, divided into many tribes. By Portuguese standards, the two areas ceased to be colonies in 1952 when they were incorporated as integral provinces.

The blacks were divided into civilized and uncivilized classes. Those with a certain level of education could apply to be classified as civilized. Then they became full Portuguese citizens.

But only a tiny proportion of Negroes apparently were interested in acquiring Portuguese citizenship or were wanted by the Portuguese as such.

Angola exports coffee, sisal, diamonds, iron ore, sugar and manganese and other minerals. Mozambique's main exports are cotton and sugar.

Both areas have important carrying trades. Their railroad systems haul minerals from Katanga and the Rhodesias.

Until recently the home government made up the motherland's trade deficit in foreign exchange by forcing the coffee and cotton producers to sell their products to a government monopoly for Portuguese money. The mother country then sold the produce abroad and pocketed the dollars. Angola and Mozambique importers had to pay dollars to Portugal for imports.

Part of the discontent of white industrialists was allayed by a government order permitting the coffee and cotton growers to sell their produce directly to buyers.

Fighting in northern Angola began in early February just after seizure of the liner Santa Maria. It has transformed the economic picture. Angola is a drain on the motherland now in money and in the blood of her sons, fighting their first war since World War I and in unaccustomed jungle guerrilla style.

Causes of the fighting are many. Kikongo tribesmen have seen their brothers of the former Belgian and French Congos get their freedom.

In the former Belgian Congo, Roberto Holden, head of the Union of Angolan People, has set up headquarters to direct a struggle for freedom. Most observers, including missionaries from Angola, say this group is anti-Communist and nationalist. But another outfit called the Revolutionary Directorate for Iberian Liberation, run by Portuguese and Spanish exiles, is believed to have close ties with the Communists.

The forced-labor system still existing in Angola, although considerably reduced in recent years draws hatred. The best men are contracted in the free labor market for reasonably good wages. Others must work under contracts of 18 months at wages set by the government. The coffee plantations, the diamond mines and the oil fields are mainly run with cheaper contract labor. Much of this year's coffee crop is lost in the fighting areas.

Biologist Says Bats Could Be Space Travelers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Secrets of homing pigeons, hibernation in space, and electricity from hot lava are items in the science news:

BIRD BROADCASTS

The 20-mile flight of a homing pigeon has been tracked accurately by Office of Naval Research scientists. They used a tiny radio transmitter, weighing less than an ounce, strapped to the bird's back.

Later they hope to use sensing devices to record physical changes by birds and other animals as they navigate—all in hopes of discovering and applying their remarkable navigational secrets. That could result in new miniaturized navigation and detection systems for man and his modern weapons.

The new approach also could check on guesses whether birds "home" by sensing magnetic lines of force, responding to the earth's rotation, or use the sun or moon for navigation.

SPACE PIONEERS

Turtles, ground squirrels, bats and woodchucks all hibernate, living in low-gear part of each year.

Those lightweight hibernators look promising as early space voyagers, to learn the effects on living things of prolonged weightlessness for weeks or months during future trips to other planets, says Dr. X. J. Musacchia, St. Louis University biologist.

Hibernating animals wouldn't need food, or present problems of getting rid of their waste products. And they would be good subjects to learn the effects of cosmic radiation on living animals, he adds.

SUN STORMS

Great explosions on the sun are known to disrupt the earth's radio communications, to create magnetic disturbances and flash on the northern lights.

Evidence now is building that they may also cause significant changes in the earth's weather, says Dr. Walter Orr Roberts, director of the National Center for Atmospheric Research, Boulder, Colo.

Three days after the magnetic-auroral upsets, he says, greater troughs or low-pressure areas appear five miles high above the Gulf of Alaska and Aleutian Islands. Energy is apparently transmitted somehow down to this level.

The low-pressure troughs could greatly influence the weather sweeping across the northern or southern tiers of American states —bringing rain or dry spells to one or the other.

HOT LAVA

A buried lake of molten lava on the island of Hawaii apparently could be tapped for heat to supply cheap electricity, scientists report.

Eruptions of the Kilauea volcano 18 months ago created a lake containing 80 million tons of molten lava, with heat enough to produce 25,000 kilowatts of electric power for 10 years, George C. Kennedy and David T. Griggs, geophysicists at the University of California at Los Angeles, estimate in a Rand Corp. report.

Experimental drilling by the Livermore Radiation Laboratory showed it is feasible to drill down through the earth's overlying crust, and to use the lava heat by one of several methods.

DISTANT CALLERS

Scientists of Massachusetts Institute of Technology have found new evidence that some cosmic rays, at least, come from sources outside the Milky Way, the galaxy of stars of which our sun is just an average one.

This spring, MIT's cosmic ray station near Albuquerque, N.M., recorded a shower of cosmic ray particles with an energy of 10 billion billion to 100 billion billion electron volts. That compares with an energy of only 25 to 30 billion electron volts achieved in the world's most powerful atom-smashers or particle slingshots.

Such energies indicate the cosmic particles had to come from vast distances, being speeded up or gaining energy by traveling through magnetic fields outside the Milky Way, says Dr. Bruno Rossi.

Country Is Found For Ex-Racket King

WASHINGTON (AP) — The immigration Service reported Wednesday it has found a new country willing to accept Carlos Marcello, the deported New Orleans, La., rackets king who is now illegally back in this country.

The government's attorney, Irving G. Appleman, declined to name the country in disclosing the development at a bail hearing for Marcello before the Board of Immigration Appeals.

Marcello had been deported to Guatemala, and the action had been upheld by a federal court here. But Guatemala sent Marcello to El Salvador and he later returned to this country. He is being held by the Immigration Service on charges of illegal entry.

Potato Digger Finds His Wallet

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Sometimes a mechanical potato digger can find more than potatoes.

Ronald Kunke lost his wallet while working in a potato field and a week of work with a shovel and hoe failed to produce the billfold. Then the digger was put to work. In a matter of minutes it uncovered the wallet, with its $98 intact.

QUESTION BOX

QUESTION: I am a young, unmarried woman. Several of my friends are married couples and they often invite me to their parties.

However, this creates a problem. They never ask me to bring an escort and I do not like trailing around at night alone, particularly when coming in rather late in the evening.

They never offer to have someone drop me off, and seem to think nothing of my leaving alone.

Is there any way I can politely ask them if I may bring an escort, or have them work out some way for their friends to pick me up and bring me home?

MISS V.E.

ANSWER: I would be perfectly frank with your hostess when she extends the invitation. Make no bones about not caring to wander around at night alone (I certainly don't blame you for that!). Ask her which she would prefer—for you to bring an escort, or for her to arrange to have someone stop by for you. Many married couples are guilty of this oversight when they invite an unattached woman friend to a party.

You would think they would remember the days when they were in your position, but most of them don't seem to! It isn't deliberate, I'm sure. It's just plain thoughtless. So be honest, and put your case before them.

QUESTION: I am to be married next month, and I really have a big problem. Neither the man I am to marry, nor myself, have one single living relative!

We would like to send out an announcement of our marriage, but don't know who should make this announcement. We are having a very quiet wedding at the home of friends, and only a few others are being invited.

But we would like our other friends and acquaintances to know about it. Can you help us?

MISS H.P.W.

ANSWER: I will certainly try! It is perfectly proper that you announce your own marriage. It should be engraved (never printed) just as a wedding announcement would be made. The wording would be somewhat as follows: "Mary Elizabeth Dow and Mr. Allen James Brown, announce their marriage on Wednesday, July fifth, Nineteen hundred and Sixty-one, Los Angeles, California."

The stationer will show you the correct way in which to space the lines. These announcements should be be addressed ahead of time and they should be placed in the mail on the day of the ceremony.

QUESTION: Are my husband and I bad hosts when we do not serve liquor in our home when we entertain? An outspoken friend of ours told me that we are actually being rude when we know that some of our guests enjoy a drink and we do not offer them one. We are not rabid teetotalers or anything like that. We just don't drink ourselves (from religious principles) and we don't like to serve it in our home. What do you say about this?

MRS. W. B. C.

ANSWER: That your friend is the one who is rude! If you and your husband do not wish to serve liquor in your home, that is your affair. If any of the guests whom you invite don't like this, let them stay home! If a drink is more important than their friendship with you, they aren't worth having for friends in the first place! Stick to your principles and don't worry. You are doing what you consider the right thing.

Pottsville Puts End

we were serious the problem cleared up," Faust continued. "Today 948 food handlers are registered. If they're not they're banned from working until they get one and the employer who slips up is liable for a fine."

* * *

ONCE THE food handlers were convinced to sign up the next step was "educating them to show why it was necessary — that we just weren't picking on them." A food hnadlers course — such as has been proposed for Pottstown—was set-up, co-sponsored by the local and State health departments.

"The turn out was excellent," Faust said happily. "Last year we had the largest turnout anywhere in the State — 213 foodhandlers at one session."

But the food handlers program was only one phase of the education program. With a college background, Faust writes a monthly column for the Pottsville newspaper on the latest advances in the health field and lectures to different school, civic and church groups — on his own time too.

"Time is the big problem, of course. You can never get everything done that you hope to—even with a secretary to do the paper work and working more than the normal 40-hour week," he continued.

His secretary works between ten and 12 hours a week—leaving "just enough paper work to bother me."

HIS DUTIES are pretty much the same as those of Benjamin C. Steele, the borough health officer, and dozens of other health officers throughout the State. Only he works fulltime and has the parttime help of a secretary. Steele works parttime—spending the rest of his time as plumbing inspector—and has no secretary to keep up with the paper work.

In fact when Steele asked for additional help two years ago borough council turned down the request—instead giving him a slight increase in salary.

"It wasn't the money I needed," Steele, who makes $5500 for both jobs, said at the time, "but someone to help with the work load."

The most time consuming of the duties are the inspection of eating and drinking places four times a year and the hundreds, of nuisance complaints that somehow or other always fall to the health officer.

Pottsville, with only 21,569 people, has 103 licensed eating and drinking places. Pottstown, with 26,066 people, has 134 licensed eating and drinking places.

"THE STATE requires inspections four times a year," Faust explained. "But some places require more than that. As soon as you leave some places they start slipping back Those are the ones that you have to visit six and eight and ten times a year."

The nuisance complaints range from the hysterical woman who thought she saw a rat in the backyard to the hysterical woman who actually did see a rat.

"I guess there's as many who were right about the rat as there were wrong," Faust laughed. "But even when they're wrong you still have to go out there and investigate—and if they're right it takes a couple more trips before the problem is solved."

When Faust started the job in 1957 he had just completed the State Health department's nine week course in environmental sanitation — the same course that Steele's replacement will have to complete. His starting salary was $3440 and he now makes $4500.

Since then he has taken several refresher courses and attended more than a dozen seminars on public health—all at the city's expense. "Pottsville is now convinced of the need for good public health," he concluded, "and they're willing to pay for it."

rock covered and treacherous.

Expecting the crowds to far exceed the million who turned out in 1960, Knipe disclosed that extraordinary arrangements for the safety and comfort of visitors have been made at all county parks.

Another safety feature recently installed at Upper Perkiomen is a six-foot-high iron fence along the park side of the dam breast of Knight lake which was officially opened for fishing on Memorial Day. The beaches of Deep Creek lake — as the Upper Perkiomen park is known —were resanded to give sun bathers more room and comfort.

Knipe said that the water of the lake is tested daily by the local Shoemaker Laboratories to make certain that it is free from contamination. Drinking water at all of the recreation centers is inspected periodically by the State Health department.

New improvements at Lower Perkiomen Valley park include a bandstand and the addition of thousands of shrubs and seedling trees.

Heights and down into South Pottstown.

Howard Seibold, North Coventry township policeman, said Cline then drove over a pile of dirt and plunged into a sewer trench, breaking the vehicle's driveshaft.

A thoroughly chastened Cline watched as the car was towed out.

But then, he didn't know if he'd ever get back to his hotel room in Pottstown if he started following the detour signs. So he took the long chance. Plunk.

HOUSE BILL IS OPPOSED BY GRANGE

Infringes on Rights, Trappe Members Claim

The House Bill 1259, which is currently in Legislature was opposed Wednesday night by the members of the Keystone grange 2 of Trappe.

The bill gives the state permission to condemn properties for the use of the highway department.

The grange opposes the bill because it infringes on the constitutional rights of a citizen to own property against seizure.

The group plans to send its protest to the Senate within a week.

Following the bill discussion a double program was conducted. The first part was a memorial service of which Lucille Rothenberger directed with readings and "The Lord's Prayer."

THE SERVICE was in memory of three deceased grange members who passed away since 1960. They were, Louis Leitenberger, Katherine Stearly and William T. Miller.

The first part was concluded with a duet by Charles Wismer Jr., Alice Zollers, accompanied by Sandra Borneman.

A musical program was directed next by Christian Hunsicker, with the grange opening with a song.

Vocal solos were sung by, Esther Hoyer, Marilyn Gottshall.

FEATURING A clarinet and trumpet duet were James and Ronald Hunsicker. A vocal duet was presented by Sara Smith and Grace Hess.

Albert Z. Zarick, presented a violin solo and Mrs. Edith Borneman gave two readings. An Accordion solo was featured by Jane Wismer and a vocal duet was rendered by Alice Zollers and Wismer Jr.

The program was concluded with a song by the grange.

The accompanists for the program were Alice Zollers, Sandra Borneman, Esther Hoyers, and Eleanor Rothenberger.

An announcement was made about the Pomona grange meeting to be conducted at New Hanover Community grange on Saturday.

Wismer, master was in charge of the meeting attended by 40 members.

GAUDEAMUS IGITUR

These are yeasty days in academic circles. Literate eyebrows were raised over Harvard's announcement that baccalaureate diplomas will henceforth be couched in English, rather than in Latin. Columbia University met this situation head on. Its senior class valedictorian coolly announced that he would deliver his oration in Latin, by Jove, and let those understand it who could! Score: Harvard, 7; Columbia, 7. This month's crop of graduates would do well to accept the whole affair with a grain of salt. (Cum grano salis, Harvard!) One week after Commencement, no one will bother to read the sheepskin, and by August, it will probably be lost—though you might look on that shelf, behind the overshoes. This is not to disparage Latin or non-Latin, Harvard or Columbia, or even the bachelor's degree that so many be-capped and be-gowned graduates will have acquired this June. It is only to suggest that the final judgment is not recorded in the dean's office, nor will it ever be. The payoff is up there under the mortarboard, in a graduate's noggin; behind the billowing gown, in his heart. It's what he got out of those four years. Maybe the years taught him to earn more than his fellows. On the other hand, they may have been the germinating period for a good, productive life. In any case, to members of the Class of '61 we say: pax vobiscum!

Array of Color Featured in Fashions By Newcomers Club at Maria Assunta

By BETTY LOU JONES
(Mercury Staff Writer)

An array of color in ultra modern designed fabrics which add spark and gaity to the suitcase of any woman embarking on a vacation, were shown at the Newcomers club fashion show at Maria Assunta lodge Wednesday night.

Woman's Page

Fashions were modeled against a backdrop scene of a ship with a railing looking over the ocean blue. Travel posters depicting places of interest further decorated the ballroom.

Lenny Holland-Moritz was commentator for the show. She appeared in a dress known as the "cocktail shaker". The dress of white featured a graceful skirt of material strips over a sheath. Folds of material fell softly to form the neckline and the costume was cut to the waist in the back.

She was introduced by Mrs. Daniel Buery, president of the club who greeted members and guests in a full skirted dress of black and white chiffon.

Sportswear was bright featuring wild "circus" stripes and daring floral prints. Ensembles, including bathing suit, jacket and dress type cullottes were popular for vacation spots.

Outfits featuring skirts, blouses and the sleeveless rain coat crept fast into the lines of fashions.

Lolly pop pink and lemon drop yellow were popular for afternoon and evening wear. The Jacqueline Kennedy loose fitting type sheath and jacket were added to the new look for Summer wear.

Floral prints featuring flaming oranges and rose blends contrasted against bright blues, dull avacado greens and fluorescent purples.

White and black—either in print or contrasted bodice and skirt were seen in the full styles for evening and in sheaths at dinner.

Materials followed the flowing chiffon looks, the perky organzas and the trim cottons, piques and linens. The silks, tapestry weaves and burlaps gave intermittent sparkle to the new lines.

And as a grand finale came the traditional gowns of the year and the highlight of any show, the bride and her attendants. The bridal gown was floor length and of nylon organza featuring satin embroidery on the skirt and bodice. A crushed satin cummerbund of satin encircled the waist terminating in tiny satin bows in the back.

Attendants chose pale blue street length gowns of silk chiffon. The dresses were styled with rounded necklines, elbow length sleeves and satin edging along the bottom of the full skirts.

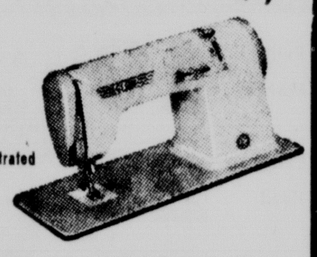

Rose Society Meets At A. Istenes Home

Mrs. Albert Istenes, Orlando road, was hostess for a meeting of the Pottstown Rose society at her home Wednesday night.

All members were urged to visit the Municipal Rose gardens at Memorial hospital, sponsored by the society.

The next meeting will be Sept. 6.

Virginia M. Kaufmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kaufmann, Finland road, Pennsburg RD 1, became the bride of Robert E. Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cresson Zimmerman, Norristown, in St. Paul's Lutheran church, Red Hill.

The Rev. Walter E. Schaeffer officiated at the double ring ceremony performed Saturday at 3 p. m. Franklin Wagner, Norristown, was soloist and Mrs. Wilbur Reihman, Green Lane, was seated at the console.

Bouquets of white gladioli, carnations and ferns decorated the altar. Guests attended from Biloxi, Miss.; Baltimore, Md.; New York, Wilmington, Del.; Brunswick, N. J.; Jersey City, N. J.; Crawford, N. J.; Philadelphia, Ambler, Norristown and Upper Perkiomen Valley.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride appeared in a dress of nylon net and lace. She chose a coronet of pearls and crystals and a fingertip veil. Her string of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a Bible topped with an orchid, lilies of the valley, baby's breath and streamers.

Barbara Stark, New York, attended her cousin as maid of honor. She wore a green chiffon gown over taffeta and a matching headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow carnations.

Joyce and Joan Durco, Red Hill, were bridesmaids. Junior bridesmaid was Susan Hansley, Audubon.

Attendants were gowned in dresses of lilac lace and chiffon. They wore matching headpieces and carried Colonial bouquets of yellow carnations.

Diane Collier, Biloxi, Miss., was flower girl. She wore a green nylon dress and carried a basket of Spring flowers. Dale Collier, Biloxi, Miss., was ring bearer.

Walter C. Stiteler, Conshohocken, performed the duties of best man for his brother-in-law.

Seating the guests were: Tom Shuler and Howard Custer Jr., Norristown.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Kaufmann received guests in a light blue nylon dress with white accessories. Mrs. Zimmerman, mother of the bridegroom, chose a rose lace dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception followed at the Green Lane firehall. When the couple left on a week long honeymoon to Niagara Falls, the Pocono mountains and New York, the new Mrs. Zimmerman was wearing a two piece yellow dress with white accessories and her orchid corsage.

Upon returning, the couple will reside in Conshohocken. The bride is a graduate of Upper Perkiomen High school and is an officer of the Red Hill grange.

Her husband is employed by the Philadelphia Electric company, Norristown, and is master of the Cold Point grange, Norristown. Both have offices at the Pomona Grange Montgomery county. The bridegroom is a graduate of Norristown High school.

Surprise showers were given by members of the Cold Point grange and Valley Grange, Red Hill.

Scout Roundup

TROOP 60

A four of a New York city television studio highlighted a bus trip to New York arranged for members and guests of Parker Ford Intermediate Girl scout troop 60.

Also included in the day's activity was a visit to Chinatown, Wall street, the docks, a boat ride to Ellis Island and the Statue of Liberty. At Newark airport the group ate dinner and watched planes landing and taking off.

The group was given an opportunity to see how they would appear on television at the studios on a closed circuit. A guide explained to them the principles of making video tapes; colored television and other aspects of the radio and television industry.

In a museum room, old methods of sound effects used for radio programs were shown and demonstrated. They were told that the transmitter for the broadcasting station is on top of the Empire State building.

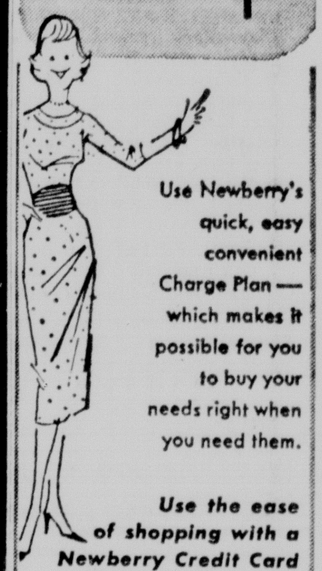

This phase of the trip was credited to girls who are working to earn their radio and television badges.

A performance at Radio City Music hall was seen.

Making the trip were: Mrs. Robert High and daughter, Barbara; Linda Sollinger, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buckwalter and daughter, Dotty; Barbara Wilke, Mrs. Russell Klipple and daughter, Cynthia; Mrs. J. Kenneth Long and daughter, Betty; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Van Riper and daughters, Lynda and Nancy.

Also, Waynette Weikel, Mr. and Mrs. John Sharp and daughters, Gail and Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kochel and children, Joanne and Richard; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Diffenderfer and children, Diane, Joan and Gary; Linda White; Justine Hawkins, Ann Lloyd, Debbie Peterman, Ginger Heiler and Sandy Wells.

Inside You And Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Together We Lose

DEAR DOCTOR: Have you heard about TOPS?

Before TOPS, my overweight figure used to depress me until I just didn't care. No pill, no vitamin, no crash diet would help. I'd take off 20 pounds and then put back 30 or 40!

Dr. Fern

Now, through TOPS—"Take Off Pounds Sensibly"—I've lost 19 pounds in 4½ months.

No fads or crash diets! We suggest only one exercise—pushing yourself away from the table.

Some members take pills which their doctors prescribe. Once you slim down, you join KOPS — "Keep Off Pounds Sensibly." KOPS encourage TOPS. Our club has two KOPS already.

Rewards Or Penalties

At weekly meetings, we weigh in on a doctor's scale. "Pigs" (weight-gainers) are fined and penalized; "TOPS" (weight-losers) are rewarded and praised; "Turtles" (no change) are neither praised nor penalized.

Our guest speakers include doctors, dieticians and psychologists.

We compete with each other. A slow, steady loser usually wins. The champion weight-loser each week is crowned queen. She keeps the crown until the next meeting. Our queen-of-the-month receives a corsage with her crown.

Last week our fifteen members lost a total of 38 pounds. Our regional queen took off 87 pounds this year. She'll compete for the national title at our convention.

Really Royal Family!

Last year our national queen, king and princess lost a total of 432½ pounds.

Yes, we have TOPS for men and children, too. Popular Stork TOPS allows expectant mothers to compete in their own class—providing each tells how much weight gain her doctor permits.

Tell your readers about TOPS. We welcome both new members and new chapters. Our password is "See You Lighter!"

For more information write to: TOPS Clubs, Inc., 2306 So. Howell Ave., Milwaukee 7, Wisconsin.

Slim-cerely yours,
Mrs. J. S.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Famous Authority on Problems of Love & Marriage

You Can Change Your Life If You Really Want To

Dear Beatrice Fairfax:

My husband is ten years older than I am, which means that he's 58 to my 48 and it also means that he's reached the age where he doesn't care about going out hardly at all while I still want to be active.

The result is that I just don't know what to do with myself, because most of the time I'm alone at home all day doing housework and then at night my husband just wants to sit and read his newspapers, which he falls asleep over half the time, and then go to bed around 10 o'clock.

I'm beginning to feel that middleage for me means stagnation, and I'm getting very dissatisfied with my life, yet I don't feel able to figure out any solution. I can't go ahead and do things evenings on my own because my husband wants me there with him even if he's dozing.

All our three children live quite far away from us, two being married and the other on a job, so we don't even get to see them very often and altogether I'm just fed up and bored crazy. I don't even feel like myself, because practically everything I do is what my husband insists on, so I feel as though I was just his slave.

Do you see any hope for me, or must I just go on living like this all the rest of our lives?

UNHAPPY WIFE

Dear Unhappy Wife:

It seems rather obvious to say that marriage should be a fifty-fifty affair, with each one adjusting himself or herself to the other to a reasonable degree and each one having a reasonable amount of freedom to devote to individual activities.

Apparently your husband doesn't see things that way, and perhaps he never has and you didn't start early enough to try to get him to see them differently.

It's pretty late, of course, to change the habits of a man of his age, but even so I do think you should take definite steps to set up some program for yourself that would take you out of this monotonous life of yours. I see no reason why you should invariably order your life along the exact lines dictated by your husband.

If you can do nothing else, then I suggest that you take time during the day, when your husband isn't home, to participate in outside activities and thus get at least some measure of the recreation and freedom you should have. I can't see why you have to stay at home alone all day doing housework.

If you can't manage any other way, can't you leave some thing to be done in the evening if you must always be home then? And wouldn't that be better than just sitting around watching your husband fall asleep over his newspapers?

I think this whole thing is up to your own initiative and ingenuity as a planner, so why not get busy and see what you can do while you're still young enough — and you are — to do it?

Wall Street News and Views

Traditional Summer Rally Is Expected by Wall Street

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—As summer approaches, anticipation of the more or less traditional seasonal rally becomes stronger on Wall Street.

The market's current hesitation hasn't dimmed this hope.

It has rarely paid in the last 25 years to sell stocks in June, observes the brokerage firm, Goodbody & Co. However, some notable exceptions were 1946, 1948, 1957 and 1960.

"The proverbial summer rise seems likely to develop once a few of the uncertainties now facing the market are resolved," Goodbody says. "We see no reason to anticipate an important decline and we continue of the opinion that the major trend remains up."

Eldon A. Grimm of Walston & Co. considers the summer rally as much a tradition of Wall Street as the famous Buttonwood Tree and the old Sub-Treasury building. The New York Stock Exchange got its start when traders gathered under the Buttonwood Tree.

"To be sure," he concedes, "certain of these hot weather rallies have been rather feeble and anemic, but they have put in an appearance, at least temporarily."

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. says that without attempting to analyze the economic background and simply looking at the technical pattern of the market, he finds a very favorable picture.

"Progress has been punctuated by a series of upward steps whereby each rise has been followed by a period of consolidation which has formed a base for the next rise," he notes.

"Additionally, the ability of the Dow Jones industrial average to maintain its position so closely to the top clearly points up the power of the optimistic forces."

While the stock market has been faced with a rash of pressures and uncertainties during the past four weeks, the bullish element has been absorbing all of this selling quietly but bullishly, comments analyst E. George Schaefer of Indianapolis.

Saints Seek SCL Title Today at 3

St. Pius X baseballers go after the Suburban Catholic League championship this afternoon at Memorial park. The Saints will battle Bishop Kenrick at 3 o'clock.

Pius earned the right for the playoff game by virtue of a 5-0 win over Lansdale Catholic on Tuesday. Nick Petro will probably get the starting call for the locals.

Kenrick beat the Pius nine 2-0 the last time the two teams met. Ed Duffy got the win for Kenrick beating Petro. Both clubs had four hits in the encounter. Petro gathered two for the Saints while Denny Psota and Ken Stutz each contributed a single.

Giants Shade Phils 4-3 On Cepeda Blow in 11th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) Orlando Cepeda singled home the winning run in the 11th inning as the San Francisco Giants won an uphill battle from the Philadelphia Phillies 4-3 Wednesday.

Little Stu Miller, who took over the pitching assignment in the ninth and hurled three runless frames, posted his fifth victory without defeat.

Miller now has pitched 11 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings.

The triumph was only the third for the Giants in their last 10 games and came after Philadelphia won the first two in their Candlestick Park series.

A crowd of 6,048 saw Philly Art Mahaffey limit the Giants to a pair of hits through seven innings before San Francisco exploded for two runs in the eighth to tie the count at 3-3.

LA Pounds Bucs 7-3, Take Lead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers floored the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night, 7-3, on a big four-run second inning and regained the National League lead.

The win pushed the Dodgers up front as Cincinnati lost to Milwaukee 3-1.

Pittsburgh's first run came in the first inning as Roberto Clemente hit his eighth homer.

Earl Francis, making his first major league start for the Pirates, was bombarded in the second by John Roseboro's two-run homer, his 10th, a double by Willie Davis and a single by Maury Wills. He issued three walks in the inning.

The Dodgers scored three runs on two hits and three walks, plus an error by second baseman Bill Mazeroski, who let Maury Wills' grounder go through his legs.

Petro, Raspen Provide Stick Power, RBI In CM Win

By JERRY RUTTER
(Mercury Sports Writer)

A pair of left handers, Pete Barth and Nick Petro combined talents to lead the Steelers to an 8-0 win over Downingtown in the opening game of the Ches-Mont Legion league season at Enterprise field.

Barth held the visitors to three hits, fanning 12 hitters enroute to the mound verdict. Petro provided the stick work for the locals. The hustling centerfielder clobbered a 375-foot homer that ignited a five-run uprising in the third inning.

Petro collected four RBI before the night was over. Teammate Roger Raspen gave Barth more hitting support with three RBI while going two-for-three.

The Downingtown nine could not solve the slants of Barth as he had little trouble, holding the losers hitless until the fourth inning. Hunt Berryman — who absorbed the loss—singled for the first hit.

The best shot off Barth came off the bat of Bob Lummenalla. The Downingtown rightfielder got good wood on a Barth fast ball and drove it to centerfield for a triple.

Petro got a late start on the drive and made a diving attempt to make the grab.

The two-out hit didn't do any damage, as Barth fanned Al Wells to end the inning.

* * *

BARRY SWARTZ poled a second inning triple and scored on Raspen's single to give Pottstown a 1-0 lead. The homeside iced the contest in the third.

Petro's homer scored Pete Millard ahead of him. Bill Logan followed with a single. Swartz was safe when the second baseman dropped a throw and Ron Hallman walked to fill the bases.

Raspen came through again, drilling a single that scored Logan and Swartz with ease. The throw to the infield went astray and Hallman tallied the seventh Steeler run.

The Steelers added single runs in the fourth and sixth innings. A walk to Millard, Ken Stutz' single and Petro's sacrifice fly netted a run in the fourth. Petro's sixth inning single plated Millard with the final run of the game.

Bob French garnered the only other hit off Barth. He slapped a slow roller between third and short and beat it out for an infield single in the sixth inning.

Downingtown failed to get two men on base in any one inning.

Corned Beef Sandwiches Upset Fans At Delaware Park, Caterer Blamed

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — A number of persons became ill Wednesday after eating food at Delaware park race track.

At least five were treated at the track dispensary in nearby Stanton. Delaware Memorial hospital eight people were being detained after being brought there by the track's ambulances. West Jersey hospital in Camden, N. J., reported two cases.

J. D. Sevens Jr., manager of the Stevens catering firm responsible for Delaware park, said it would be morning before medical reports could be evaluated to determine what caused the illnesses.

Told there were reports those who became ill had eaten corned beef sandwiches, Stevens said at his office in Princeton, N. J., he was not absolutely positive the corned beef was the cause.

* * *

THE STEVENS firm caters to 30 million people a year, starting at race tracks in 1914 at Bowie, Md., Stevens said. He said this was the first report of illness resulting from their food in the history of Delaware park, to his knoweldge.

Martin Greenberg, 47, of Lakewood, N. J., and Joseph Waldman, 37, of Lakehurst, N. J., were in critical condition when they arrived at the hospital, but later they were reported fair.

Treated at Delaware Memorial hospital were:

Mrs. Lucile Halezel, 66, of Sewell, N. J.; George McQuillan, 55, of Galdwyne, Pa.; Fred Stern, 54, of Sewell, N. J.; John Oschman of Tamaqua, Pa.; Mary Ryan of Philadelphia.

Boyertown Legion 9 Drops 2nd Tilt 5-4

LEESPORT—Leesport spotted Boyertown's Legion unit four runs in the first two innings Wednesday night, then rallied to take a 5-4 Berks league verdict in tne second game of a twinbill at Municipal stadium here.

The first game saw West Lawn blank Kutztown, 7-0.

Dennis Swavely stopped the Bears on two hits after the Boyertown unit had tagged Rich Hoffman for their entire run production in the first two innings.

Tall righthander Dan Boyer ran into trouble in the late innings however, surrendering a single run in the fourth and two more in the fifth before finally being tagged with the loss in the sixth, when he was driven from the mound.

BOYER SURRENDERED a single to Rich Hoffman to open the sixth, then walked Doug Ebbert. He was lifted at this point in favor of Dennis Shade, who fanned Stan Miller, but issued up a single to Mike Haggerty, which scored Hoffman with the tying run.

Haggerty stole second, and on the same play Ebbert came romping home with the winning run.

The Bears had put together back-to-back singles by Vic Tucci and Carl Houp to open the first inning. Ron Houck then grounded to second, and when the throw went to the plate wildly, Tucci scored.

Houck and Houp then pulled the delayed double steal, with Houp coming home to score the second run. Bob Hillegas then plated Houck with a single.

Shade singled and stole home for the second-inning run, after being pushed to third by walks to Tucci and Houp.

The loss was the second in a row for the Bears.

Cookie, Griffith To Huddle, Seek 'Help' for Twins

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS, (AP) —Cookie Lavagetto arrived in the Twin Cities Wednesday with his sleeves rolled up and ready to go to work.

"I didn't come here to go fishing," said the Minnesota Twins' manager, who was granted a week's vacation by Club Owner Calvin Griffith Tuesday. "I'm going to sit down with Calvin and see what can be done."

Griffith recalled the 48-year-old Lavagetto in the midst of the Twins' longest losing streak of the year—12 games.

"I don't know what can be done to help the club," Lavagetto continued. "We have no bench at all, our relief pitching is terrible and we need a couple good starters. I hope we can iron some of these things out this week."

Griffith was ready to get to business, too, but he was more anxious for his manager to get some rest.

"During the week, I hope to get Cookie's mind off baseball," he said. "We plan to do a little fishing and maybe some golfing, too, starting Thursday. You know I haven't been able to get out fishing or golfing yet this year. Maybe this will help me, too."

Kimberton Lutheran unloaded the heavy lumber on three Coventry Brethren hurlers Wednesday night, enroute to a 16-2 Church league triumph at Memorial park.

Bob MacPhearson, Doc Kennedy and Ken Finkbiner carried the heavy guns for the winners, McPhearson banged a brace of circuit clouts, while Kennedy and Finkbiner each collected one.

The winners hopped on Starter Jim Huy for a pair or runs in the first inning, and drove him from the mound with a three-run burst in the fourth.

Hal Schweitzer and Don Reigner followed Huy on the Coventry Brethren mound, neither having much success with the Lutherans.

FINKBINER PITCHED shutout ball for the first four innings to collect the win. He surrendered an unearned run in the fifth, and was lifted in favor of Ron Boetgger, who allowed the final run in the seventh.

The Lutherans struck back with a vengeance once Coventry Brethren had scored, cutting the margin to 8-1 entering the sixth.

Kennedy and MacPhearson swatted back-to-back homers over the left field fence in a five-run sixth that iced the game. Kennedy drove in four runs for the winners.

CONNIE MACK UNITS SET TO VIE TONIGHT

NorChesCo, Steelers To Bid for 3d Triumphs

American Legion Connie Mack baseball activity resumes this evening with the Baby Steelers and NorChesCo Judges each bidding for third victories.

The Baby Steelers will call at the Stowe Lions, NorChesCo vists Limerick and Lower Pottsgrove calls at Spring City for 6:15 action.

The Judges are just coming off a two-victory stint as many days, with Spring City the latest team to fall by a 5-1 pad.

Wayne Wisler and Bill Scherfel were the winning hurlers, Scherfel turning in a one-hit stint against Spring City in which he fanned 13 batters.

GARY BADGLEY suffered the loss, evening his record at 1-1 for Spring City after allowing five hits and as many runs. Eight walks however, kept Badgley in the soup.

Scherfel also batted in two of his team's runs with a triple in the first inning to hang the hook on Badgley, then stopped the losers virtually in their tracks.

He lost his shutut bid in the fourth when Terry Bickhart crossed with the losers' only tally after being hit by a Scherfel pitch.

The Judges added single runs in the second, fourth and fifth innings.

Doehlers Thumps Frostie, 9-3 In Junior Contest

Doehlers batters employed a pair of four-run innings and the five-hit pitching of Neal Dennis to rout Frostie, 9-3 in a Junior league clash at Memorial park Wednesday night.

The first uprising came in the fourth inning, and erased a 2-0 Frostie lead that had stood since the second. Frostie collected another unearned run in the home fourth, but still trailed, 4-3.

The winners continued to thrive on the slants of Bob Hartenstine in the sixth and seventh, finally driving him from the mound with their last four-run burst.

Dave Raysor came on to retire the final batter.

Dennis walked but one and fanned six while going the route. He also collected a hit and scored two runs to aid his own cause.

BRAVES DOWN REDLEGS 3-1

Nottebart's 4-Hitter, Mathews Double Pace Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves beat Cincinnati 3-1 behind the four-hit pitching of Don Nottebart Wednesday night and knocked the Reds out of the National League lead. Los Angeles moved back on top, by a half-game over the Reds, with a 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

Nottebart, 25-year-old right-hander, had to protect his two-run lead from the third inning on. The Braves extracted only six hits from three Redleg hurlers.

The victory evened Nottebart's record at 3-3 and gave the Braves their third victory in ten games against the Reds this year.

A single by Gene Freese and Vada Pinson's double were the best Cincinnati could do until the seventh when Gordie Coleman bounced a leadoff double off the scoreboard and Freese walked.

Jerry Zimmerman sacrificed, but Nottebart got pinch hitter Gus Bell and Eddie Kasko on easy outs, ending the threat.

Rookie Ken Hunt was driven from the mound in the third inning which he started by giving two straight walks.

Lee Maye's single loaded the bases and one run scored on a putout. Eddie Mathews doubled in two more before Howie Nunn cut off the rally in relief.

Redbirds Batter Chicubs 8-6 on Musial Rampage

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial, who has one foot in the Hall of Fame and the swing to open the door, went 4-for-4 to power the St. Louis Cardinals over the Chicago Cubs 8-6 Wednesday night. His hits included two, two-run homers, his fifth and sixth of the year.

His heroics were essential as starter Larry Jackson, credited with his second decision, was knocked out in the eighth, and reliever Al Cicotte had to give way to Mickey McDermott in the ninth.

Ron Santo's triple and Ernie Banks' 11th home run, both off Cicotte, closed out the Cubs' scoring.

Musial had one hit off each of four Cub pitchers, starter and loser Bob Anderson, Jim Brewer, Dick Ellsworth and Don Elston. Anderson and Ellsworth escaped with singles.

Schwall Stops A's 6-2 for 4th Straight

BOSTON (AP)—Unbeaten Boston rookie Don Schwall whipped Kansas City 6-2 Wednesday for his fourth straight major league pitching victory.

The big righthander, who played no serious baseball until he had entered the University of Oklahoma, allowed 9 hits, but bore down effectively in the clutch.

Jackie Jensen drove in two runs with a pair of doubles while Carroll Hardy contributed three singles and stole home in an eye-popping exhibition of his tremendous speed.

Schwall reached base three times including a "life" on third baseman Reno Bertoia's error in the fifth inning which touched off a decisive Red Sox spree of four unearned runs.

Schwall was touched for single runs in the third and sixth inning. Joe Pignatano doubled behind singles by Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern in the third. Leo Posada singled home Siebern, who had doubled, for the other run.

Boston called on its blazing speed to start the attack on southpaw nemesis Bud Daley, who entered the game with an 8-3 lifetime record against the Red Sox.

Jensen stole third after doubling in the fourth and scored on Jim

Bowsfield Hurls 4-0 Angel Win Over Birds

BALTIMORE (AP)—Lefty Ted Bowsfield, making his first start, pitched a 4-0, five-hit victory over the Baltimore Orioles Wednesday night to lift the Los Angeles Angels out of the American League cellar.

The Angels, who took three of the four-games here, moved into ninth place ahead of the Minnesota Twins, who lost 5-1 to the New York Yankees for their 13th consecutive defeat.

Bowsfield, who had not pitched longer than two innings in 17 previous games this season, started slowly but was almost untouchable over the final six innings.

Los Angeles staked Bowsfield to a 3-0 lead in the first inning after Oriole starter Billy Hoeft had retired the first two batters.

Bobby Marshman, Keller on Bill

Indianapolis "500" Stars, Bobby Marshman, Pottstown and Al Keller, Green Acres, Fla., will head the starting field in the 50-lap "George Memorial Race" at Hatfield speedway Saturday evening.

The race, under sanction of the ARDC mighty midgets, is the second running of the memorial event, a tribute to the late Lansdale driver who was killed in a Hatfield midget race on June 14, 1958.

Both Marshman and Keller figured prominently in this year's Memorial Day classic at Indy.

Marshman, son of Hatfield Speedway owner, finished seventh in the Hoover Special and won co-rookie of the year honors with Parnelli Jones. Keller placed fifth in the 500-miler and last Sunday was second in the 100-mile championship event at Milwaukee.

In addition to the big purse being offered by Director George Marshman, Lansdale area sportsmen are posting $10 for each lap led.

It was the ninth straight victory for the Indians, the seventh without a loss for Grant and the fifth consecutive loss for the Senators, who fell into seventh place behind Kansas City.

The victory pushed the Indians a half-game ahead of the Detroit Tigers, idle Wednesday. The two clubs open a four-game series in Detroit with a twi-night doubleheader Thursday.

The Indians rapped 11 hits and were aided by five Washington errors.

Included were home runs by Willie Kirkland, his fourth, and Woodie Held, his eighth, an inside-the-park blow to deep centerfield.

The Indians collected two runs in the first without a hit on an error and four straight walks by starting pitcher Pete Burnside.

The Indians jumped on Burnside's relief Marty Kutyna, for six more runs and seven hits. John Klippstein, third Washington pitcher, allowed three runs, two of them earned, on four hits over the final 5 2-3 innings.

Cleveland scored three in the third on a walk, singles by Vic Power and John Romano, a double by Chuck Essegian and a sacrifice fly. Romano's hit stretched his hitting streak to 22 games.

Terry Hurls 5-1 Yank Win; Homer Record Extended

NEW YORK (AP)—After giving up a double and a triple in the first inning, Ralph Terry pitched hitless ball the rest of the way Wednesday and the New York Yankees completed a sweep of the four-game series with the hapless Minnesota Twins 5-1. It was the 13th straight defeat for the Twins.

Billy Martin tripled in the first frame for the Twins and was driven home by Lenny Green's double.

The Yankees pounded out two more home runs and set an American League record of slamming 31 homers in 16 games. The homers in this game were by Roger Maris, who now leads the major leagues with 17, and by Yogi Berra. It was Berra's ninth.

All of the Yankee runs came in a fat third inning at the expense of Pedro Ramos, veteran right handed pitcher whose mark now is 3-7. Terry is 3-0.

With one out, Terry opened the fireworks with a single. Tony Kubek followed with another single before Maris connected with his homer. The single extended Kubek's hitting streak to 16 straight games.

Mickey Mantle followed Maris' blast by getting a hit off Martin's glove and then came Berra's blast.

The triumph was the fifth straight for the Yankees and the 13th victory in their last 17 starts. The Yankees of 1941 hold the record for the most home runs in a series of games with 40 round trippers in 25.

Jacqueline Is Called 'Cinderella'

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, described in Athens newspapers as "the Cinderella of the White House," came to Greece Wednesday for a week of sightseeing and cruising amid the Aegean islands.

She stepped off a London plane just before 6 p.m., into 80-degree heat. Her turquoise blue travel coat, worn over a darker blue silk dress, proved superfluous.

Prime Minister Constantine Caramanlis, who had met Mrs. Kennedy in Washington in April, greeted her at the airport. Mrs. Caramanlis was nearby, comparatively cool in white linen.

They are Mrs. Kennedy's hosts, but she will make her headquarters at the seaside villa of Marcos Nomikos, wealthy ship owner and member of the Greek Parliament. She will cruise aboard Nomikos' 125-foot yacht North Wind, on loan to Mrs. Caramanlis.

Mrs. Kennedy's sister and brother-in-law, Prince and Princess Radziwill, accompanied her from London on a commercial plane. While the visit is unofficial and private two Secret Service men will help Greek police guard Mrs. Kennedy.

London Cheers Duke of Kent, His Bride to Be

YORK, England (AP) — The royal family's leading bachelor, the 25-year-old Duke of Kent, forsakes that role Thursday when Katharine Worsley, 23, walks down the long nave of York Minster to become his bride.

His cousin, Queen Elizabeth II, will see the wedding.

Crowds of shrieking housewives broke through police lines Wednesday and surrounded cars taking the wedding party to the Church of England Cathedral for a rehearsal.

"Yoo hoo!" they shrilled. "Isn't she sweet?"

The excited women brought the cars to a halt at the cathedral's doors. Policemen kept them back so the couple could enter the church.

Princess Alexandra, 24, Kent's unmarried sister, and his 19-year-old brother, Michael, were at the rehearsal along with their mother, the Duchess of Kent. The husband and father, then the Duke of Kent, was killed in a wartime crash. He was a brother of King George VI, father of the present queen.

Also at the rehearsal was 10-year-old Princess Anne, daughter of the queen, who will be a bridesmaid.

• • •

This concentration of aristocrats was too much for the crowd, some members of which acted as if they had never seen royalty before.

Maybe they hadn't, for the last royal marriage in York Minster took place 633 years ago, when King Edward III married 14-year old Queen Phillipa.

The bride-to-be got some real exercise inside the cathedral. It is 160 feet from the door down the nave and to the altar rails. From the altar rails to the 17th century cream and gold altar, it's another 10 feet.
